

On Tuesday, a group of Nantyr students participated in the SCDSB Model U.N. simulation. Students had an opportunity to participate in debates related to global politics and international issues, as well as to give speeches in front of their peers on topics such as Rare Earth Elements, Transnational Organized Crime, and Global Mental Health Initiatives. Nantyr students represented themselves and their school very well and should be proud of their performances. Great job team can't wait to do it again next year!
